DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-10 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-6, drawn to a method treating a tumor by administering a minus-strand RNA viral vector encoding an immunostimulatory cytokine or a cell into which the vector has been introduced.

Group II, claim(s) 7 and 8, drawn to a composition comprising a minus-strand RNA viral vector encoding an immunostimulatory cytokine or a cell introduced with the vector.

Group III, claim(s) 9 and 10, drawn to a composition comprising a minus-strand RNA viral vector encoding an immunostimulatory cytokine and a tumor antigen or a vector expressing the antigen.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Bitzer (J. Gene Medicine, 2003, Vol. 5, pg 543-553) taught administering SeV encoding IL-10 for example, which is equivalent to administering a minus-strand RNA viral vector encoding an immunostimulatory cytokine (claim 1) and composition comprising a minus strand RNA viral vector encoding an immunostimulatory cytokine (claim 7). The phrase "anti-tumor treatment" and "anti-tumor" composition" are intended uses and do not bear patentable weight because they do not alter the structure of the composition being used.

More relevant is US Patent 6514728, which taught a Sendai viral vector encoding INF-gamma and using it to treat tumors (Example 1).

Thus, the special technical feature (a Sendai viral vector encoding an immunostimulatory cytokine) is not a contribution over the prior art.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michael C. Wilson who can normally be reached at the office on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 9:30 am to 6:00 pm at 571-272-0738.
